GOD IS GOOD Isaiah 6:6–7

1. Think back to the past three messages. What has stuck with you about the greatness and goodness of God?
2. Think of a time when you were guilty of sin and sought God for forgiveness. How did it feel to know you were guilty? How did it feel to be forgiven?
3. As we cultivate a lifestyle of humility and dependence, have you taken the opportunity to continue confessing and repenting this week, freshly applying God's grace? See 1 John 1:9 for God's promise.
4. How often do you admit your sin and celebrate the work of Christ together in community?
5. How many of the roles of the high priest can you remember without looking? Read Leviticus 16 to check.
6. Read Hebrews 9:9–14 and 10:10–14.
  - How are sins atoned for?
  - How is Jesus the better high priest and sacrifice?
  - What did that mean for Isaiah and now for us?
7. How confident or timid are you to continue going to the majestic God for your ongoing mercy and help in your ongoing time of need (Hebrews 4:14–16)? In what ways does your prayerfulness and ongoing confession and worship show or not show this?
8. True disciples of Jesus are freed by the gospel to serve the living God (Hebrews 9:14, Galatians 5:13–14). Have you experienced this freedom and is it what motivates your service? Ask the Lord, "How do you want me to serve you this week in my spheres of influence?" Read Isaiah 6:8–9, meditating on Isaiah's call and preparing your heart to keep joining God in His work.
9. In response to Jesus' sacrifice, how can you, whose lips have been cleaned, offer a sacrifice of praise (Hebrews 13:15) amidst a generation that needs to hear His name and know His goodness?
